

Our Philosophy

Our approach to the treatment and management of cancer can be best understood as a comprehensive approach. We work with cancer patients by combining a number of proven and highly successful modalities including a living food nutrition program, detoxification and cleansing therapies, IPT, and many complementary IV vitamin and mineral therapies. The basic philosophy of our program is to:

- Teach you how to Stop Making Cancer
- Selectively Target the Cancer
- Rebalance & Enhance the Immune System

We recognize that everyone is unique, so we personalize every patient's treatment plan, basing the plan on you, who you are, and not your diagnosis. We use a team approach in your care and fully encourage your participation in the decision making process. We continually monitor your progress with Laboratory Testing, and Imaging.

Because the body is truly an amazing connection of physical, emotional and spiritual components, we further encourage stress reduction & management, release from emotional trauma(s) and spiritual development as essential elements in healing. Our primary goal is to provide a healing atmosphere that will encourage and support you to maximize your healing experience.

How to Stop Making Cancer

It must be understood that in order for health to be restored, whatever factors that were involved in the development of cancer must be eliminated. Stopping cancer growth within the body requires eating nutritionally-dense foods and thorough body cleansing. Malnutrition from nutritionally-void foods leaves the body depleted, unprotected and weak, providing an environment for cancer growth. Optimal nutrition rebuilds the immune system, cleanses the body and supplies nutrients essential for healing and repair. Colon cleansing, infrared sauna, lymphatic drainage massage, juice fasting and other lifestyle changes continue to allow the body to remove toxins that can keep the immune system overwhelmed, which can contribute to cancer growth.

Oasis School of Life

There has become a cultural expectation that we as individuals are not able to prevent or mitigate disease and rather we become “victims” of disease who defer our medical treatment to strangers in white coats. The truth is that this paradigm of disease is completely fabricated and false.

Through the Oasis School of Life participants learn how to align the body with its innate ability to heal. We show you how to build a body that doesn't need disease.

We offer a full range of nutritional education, hands on instruction and interactive discussion and audio and visual media. Our mission is to impart enough knowledge, and support for you to become completely comfortable and self-sufficient in continuing this healing lifestyle long after you return home, and for the rest of your life.
